TAKING A STEP BACK FROM WEED? HERE'S HOW TO STAY BUSY IN HARRISONBURG

CLEAR 30

When you take a step back from weed, it can feel like there's suddenly a lot of extra time in your day—and not always enough ideas to fill it. That's where distractions come in. Finding things that feel good, keep you busy, and help you focus on something new can make all the difference.

We've put together a list of some of our favorite things to do in Harrisonburg and on campus to help you stay on track during your break. Whether you're in the mood for fresh air, a creative project, or just something fun, there's plenty here to keep you moving forward.

Nature & Outdoors

Wildwood Park

A riverside chill spot in Bridgewater where you can stroll, unwind by the dam, or just soak up the scenery.

Edith J. Carrier Arboretum's Hidden Trails

Wander off the main paths for tranquil moments among towering trees and garden views.

Ralph Sampson Park

Perfect for an all-out sports day - shoot hoops, serve aces on the tennis courts, or try your hand at horseshoes.

Arts & Creativity

OASIS Fine Art and Craft

A treasure trove of unique, handmade pieces by local artists - perfect for one-of-a-kind finds.

artWorks Gallery

JMU's own student-run showcase serving up fresh takes and experimental art vibes.

You Made It Pottery

Roll up your sleeves, paint your own designs, and fire up your inner artist.

Lucy F. Simms Continuing Education Center

Skip the campus crowds with fitness classes and a gym open to the community.

Cultural & Community Experiences

Harrisonburg Downtown Art Walk

Stroll through local streets packed with vibrant murals, sculptures, and creative surprises.

Elk Run Mining Co.

Dig into gemstone goodies and handcrafted jewelry that'll spark serious hometown pride.

WHY DISTRACTIONS MATTER

Let's be real: staying busy is one of the best ways to make a break from weed easier. New experiences and hobbies give you something else to focus on, and before you know it, the time flies by. Think of it as an opportunity to explore, grow, and maybe even find a new favorite thing while you're on your break.
