TAKING A STEP BACK FROM WEED? HERE'S HOW TO STAY BUSY IN NORFOLK

CLEAR 30

When you take a step back from weed, it can feel like there's suddenly a lot of extra time in your day—and not always enough ideas to fill it. That's where distractions come in. Finding things that feel good, keep you busy, and help you focus on something new can make all the difference.

We've put together a list of some of our favorite things to do in Norfolk and on campus to help you stay on track during your break. Whether you're in the mood for fresh air, a creative project, or just something fun, there's plenty here to keep you moving forward.

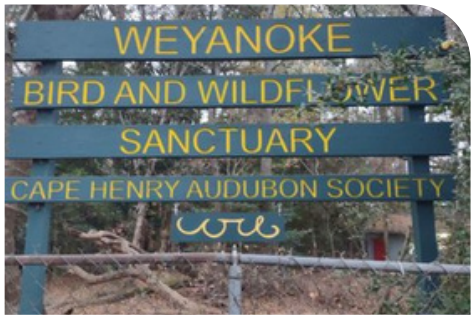
Nature & Outdoors

Elizabeth River Trail

A 10-mile route of pure sightseeing bliss. Walk, jog, or bike your way through Norfolk's prettiest nooks.

Lakewood Park

Stroll around scenic lakes and winding paths for a breath of fresh air right in the heart of Norfolk.



Weyanoke Bird and Wildflower Sanctuary

Quiet, lush hideaway for spotting local wildlife. An ideal retreat when campus life gets loud.

Arts & Creativity

Barry Art Museum

Free admission to jaw-dropping glass sculptures, modernist paintings, and unique doll collections, art fix guaranteed.

d'Art Center

Watch local artists in action and maybe even score a custom piece. Creative inspiration meets hands-on fun.

Neon District Street Art

Stroll through vibrant murals and edgy galleries, your Insta feed will pop with color.

WHY DISTRACTIONS MATTER

Let's be real: staying busy is one of the best ways to make a break from weed easier. New experiences and hobbies give you something else to focus on, and before you know it, the time flies by. Think of it as an opportunity to explore, grow, and maybe even find a new favorite thing while you're on your break.
