TAKING A STEP BACK FROM WEED? HERE'S HOW TO STAY BUSY IN ANN ARBOR

CLEAR 30

When you take a step back from weed, it can feel like there's suddenly a lot of extra time in your day—and not always enough ideas to fill it. That's where distractions come in. Finding things that feel good, keep you busy, and help you focus on something new can make all the difference.

We've put together a list of some of our favorite things to do in Ann Arbor and on campus to help you stay on track during your break. Whether you're in the mood for fresh air, a creative project, or just something fun, there's plenty here to keep you moving forward.

Nature & Outdoors

Nichols Arboretum ("The Arb")

Wander the trails, chill by the Huron River, or just soak in the peace and quiet of one of UMich's favorite spots for outdoor vibes.

Matthaei Botanical Gardens

Stroll through the lush indoor gardens, explore exotic plants, and enjoy a serene escape from campus life.

Barton Nature Area

Head to the docks or walk the paths for a little escape from the busy campus life.

Arts & Creativity

North Campus VR Lab

Try out some mind-blowing virtual reality experiences—free and fun!

Duderstadt Music Studios

Love music? You can get certified to use UMich's professional-grade studios and start creating your own tracks.

Arts and Crafts Lab

Tap into your creative side with 3D printing, arts and crafts supplies, and other cool tools.

Revel & Roll Bowling

Grab some friends and hit the lanes, or check out the arcade games and food.

Cultural & Community Experiences

UMMA (University of Michigan Museum of Art)

Take a stroll through the museum for some inspiration and to see world-class exhibits.

The Michigan Theater

Watch an indie film or catch a live performance at this historic Ann Arbor spot.

WHY DISTRACTIONS MATTER

Let's be real: staying busy is one of the best ways to make a break from weed easier. New experiences and hobbies give you something else to focus on, and before you know it, the time flies by. Think of it as an opportunity to explore, grow, and maybe even find a new favorite thing while you're on your break.
